Religion by Numbers:

1300s England	2013 Australia
Churches Per Person: London population: 50, 000 Churches in London: 100 Churches per person: 50,000 / 100 = Percentage of Population That Was Christian Number of people in England in 1300s who were Christian: 2, 910, 000 (out of a population of 3,000,000). Percentage: 3,000,000 / 2, 910, 000 x 100 = Church Attendance Numbers of times per week a Christian in middle ages was expected to go to church: 1 Gifts To Church Amount of yearly wage a Christian peasant was expected to give to church in middle ages = 10%	Churches Per Person Melbourne population: 4, 169, 103 Approx number of churches: 3000 Churches per person: 4, 169, 103 / 3000 = Percentage of Population That Is Christian Number of people in Australia in 2013 who are Christian:13, 989, 191 (out of a population of 22, 933, 157). Percentage: 13, 989, 191 / 22, 933, 157 x 100 = Church Attendance Average number of times per year a Christian in Australia goes to church: 5.3 Gifts To Church Average amount of yearly wage a Christian gives to church per year = 0.05%

How Christian was middle ages England compared to current Australia? Use at least two statistics from the above grid in your answer: